If you walk into a casino & either a dealer or a person there recognizes you, you've probably been spending too many hours at the casino. Be honest with yourself, sometimes you make money in 10 minutes, sometimes it takes 2 hours but almost always when you stay too long, you always blow your cash.

If you ask most people, if they would give up all those hours in the casino & just go once a month for 2-3 hours & make more than what they make going 4-5 hours daily.

They will all say "yes of course" but yet they just keep showing up daily & hoping to "learn something" at the tables.

I myself have 8 years of experience on the tables & I've seen it all.

EVERYONE who is there at the tables everyday is a degenerate, losing player & loses more than they earn monthly.
