25 and so on.

For example, a team fighting relegation is likely to spend much of their time defending against a bigger, top-four chasing team, which means that they're likely to give away more fouls and pick up more cards as they do everything they can to close all routes to goal.

Similarly, teams that have lots of possession and like to attack lots, might give away lots of cynical fouls in the opposition half to prevent quick counter attacks.

Let's face it, some referees are more lenient than others, while others are particularly harsh.

Such stats are available for all of Europe's top leagues.
