After two impressive wins at Woodbine in his first three starts, the son of Cupid has been competitive in three straight stakes races.

He has only run three times with only a maiden victory so far.

His other three races are all losses, but come while sprinting.

While he does have plenty of stamina influence in his pedigree, he has given little indication in his previous stakes attempts that he can beat this type of field.

After failing in three stakes attempts at Woodbine last fall, this son of Shaman

Ghost looked to want no part of the dirt with two poor efforts at Laurel Park to begin his 3-year-old campaign.

Upon his return to Canada, he ran a much improved race to finish second in a turf allowance last out.
